FRUITBEARER PUBLISHING HOSTS WOMEN'S RETREAT

Women from Delaware and surrounding states will be converging in Lewes for an overnight retreat next month. Candy Abbott, managing partner of Fruitbearer Publishing LLC in Georgetown, recently announced that her company is hosting the retreat at The Inn at Canal Square, 122 Market Street, in Lewes on March 13 and 14.

“The retreat theme is In His Time,” Mrs. Abbott says. “We’re hosting the overnight event to encourage intimacy with the Lord and to facilitate opportunities for individual prayer ministry.”

Gloria Adams, author of Time Management God's Way, a Fruitbearer publication, is the keynote speaker. She is an anointed Bible teacher and small group ministry leader at Celebration Church in Columbia, MD. Music will be provided by Sue Ayotte of Georgetown and Deborah Powers-Holloway of New Castle, DE. Gloria's sister, Jacqueline Martin will offer sacred dance prior to times of personal prayer ministry.

“Times are tough,” Mrs. Abbott says, “so we’re providing a setting in which women will not only be uplifted and taught God’s Word, but we’re encouraging quiet time in which they can be still and hear His voice. We need His wisdom in these perilous days, but if we don’t take time to wait upon Him, we could miss vital instructions. We truly need to take time to make time to hear His voice.”

Participants will also have an opportunity to meet other Fruitbearer authors and friends and to purchase their books and products, Mrs. Abbott says.

The Fruitbearer Women’s Retreat begins Friday, March 13, at 7 P.M. and ends Saturday, March 14, at 5 P.M. Deadline for registrations is Feb. 20. The cost (which varies depending on the number of people occupying rooms overnight) includes registration and lodging fees, Friday night snack, Saturday European breakfast, lunch, and an afternoon snack. Participants can register online at www.fruitbearer.com or by phoning Gritton Productions at 302-422-0907.
